

Winning Takes Work, Passion, and Commitment

Winning Takes Work, Passion and Commitment

Staying on a Winning path takes work. Michael Jordan was cut from his high school basketball team and refused a scholarship at North Carolina State. Tom Brady was the 199th pick in the NFL draft. Six quarterbacks were picked before him. Both Jordan and Brady willed and worked their way to becoming winners. You have the same option. It is what you DO that makes the difference. That is true in sports, in relationships, and in opportunity. Take a moment to grade yourself on each of these three characteristics that are observed in people who have "made it":

1. Believe in Themselves
2. Refuse to Quit
3. Passionately Engage in What They Do

What do you say? Ever see a course offered in any of those three "subjects" by any school of any type at any level? I haven't and I am one of those people who is over-schooled and under-educated. What does that mean? Winning is ALL up to you.

As you live your existing or future home based business, be sure to make your dreams come true by continually refining your:

1. Vision
2. Goals
3. Plans
4. Assessments

Take a page out of Marine Corps winning ways on what to do when everything goes wrong:

1. Improvise
2. Adapt
3. Overcome

History says it works!